

HEALTH CARE

The health care industry is evolving and patient demographics are changing. Health care facilities must provide increasingly complex care while also producing higher quality outcomes. To address a shortage of new talent and meet the needs of a changing industry, employers are turning to registered apprenticeship.

“I believe that if somebody goes through this training, they are going to feel more connected to us as an employer, they are going to feel more pride in their job and they are going to stay.”

– Health Support Specialist Program Director (health care)

WHAT IS APPRENTICESHIP?

Apprenticeship is a successful and innovative employee training model that can be designed to meet employers' needs to recruit, train and retain 21st century talent. From day one, an apprentice earns, learns and works for their employers as they receive structured on-the-job training and related technical instruction.
