D. Legislative update – effective date of rules

Bill Bierman referred to Attachment A. He noted one of the changes was to the effective date of the rules as follows: “A rule to adopt or amend the State Building Code is effective ~~180~~ 270 days after publication of the rule’s notice of adoption in the State Register.”

Bierman noted an additional change made by the legislature: “The rule may provide for an earlier effective date if the commissioner ~~or board...~~” The department’s proposed legislation will ask that the deletion of “~~or board~~” be reversed so the responsibility and authority to consider an earlier effective date be placed back in the hands of the High Pressure Piping Board.

V. Special Business

Green referred to Attachment B, “CCLD Enforcement Stats 2011-2015” and reviewed overall cases open/closed and orders for each of the units. Green noted that HPPS doesn’t have CE requirements and very few enforcement cases.

EFFECTIVE DATE.

This section is effective August 1, 2015, and applies to all model code adoptions beginning with the 2018 model building code.

Sec. 7.

Minnesota Statutes 2014, section 326B.13, subdivision 8, is amended to read:
Subd. 8.

Effective date of rules.

A rule to adopt or amend the State Building Code is effective ~~180~~ 270 days after publication of the rule's notice of adoption in the State Register. The rule may provide for a later effective date. The rule may provide for an earlier effective date if the commissioner ~~or board~~ proposing the rule finds that an earlier effective date is necessary to protect public health and safety after considering, among other things, the need for time for training of individuals to comply with and enforce the rule. The commissioner must publish an electronic version of the entire adopted rule chapter on the department's Web site within ten days of receipt from the revisor of statutes. The commissioner shall clearly indicate the effective date of the rule on the department's Web site.

Note from Bill Bierman: This section is effective August 1, 2015.
