Bloomington contractor fined $14,500 for unlicensed work

A Bloomington contractor was found to have engaged in unlicensed residential building construction work. The contractor was ordered to cease and desist from the unlicensed activities and fined $14,500.

Enforcement actions

A licensed West St. Paul residential building contractor was found to have allowed an unlicensed person to use its license number for the purpose of fraudulently obtaining building permits. DLI revoked the contractor's license and ordered it to cease and desist from acting or holding itself out as a residential building contractor in Minnesota.

A Menahga contractor was found to have performed plumbing work without the required contractor license. The contractor was ordered to cease and desist from the unlicensed activities and fined $5,000, of which $4,000 was stayed contingent on full future compliance.

An Elk River contractor was found to have engaged in residential building construction, electrical and plumbing work without having the required licenses. The contractor was ordered to cease and desist from the unlicensed activities and fined $5,000, of which $4,000 was stayed contingent on full future compliance.

A Columbia Heights contractor was found to have engaged in residential remodeling, electrical and plumbing work without being licensed. The contractor was ordered to cease and desist from the unlicensed activities and fined $7,000, of which $5,500 was stayed contingent on full future compliance.
